Call 811 Before You Dig

Planning a project like planting a tree, installing a fence, or landscaping your yard? Call 811 before you dig.

Underground utility lines including internet, phone, electric, water, and gas run beneath many properties. Digging without knowing their location can cause service outages and safety hazards.

Calling 811 is free and allows utility companies to mark underground lines so you can dig safely. It also helps protect the fiber and communication lines that keep our community connected.
